

Canada Credits

'Fall semester' = semester 1, 'Winter' or 'Spring semester' = semester 2. Please note that level 100 courses (first year Courses in Canadian universities) are very general courses, more equivalent to A-Levels than degree work and are not going to be suitable for you (unless you are taking an introductory course outside of your degree subject as a 'free choice' option). Students in their second year at The University of Manchester should typically take Level 3/300 courses at Canadian universities, with the exception of the University of Calgary where students should take Level 4/400 courses.

All guidance on credit load is based on a student replacing 60 University of Manchester credits per semester. Students will also need to be mindful of minimum credit requirements for full-time status for visa requirements.

University of British Columbia

Credit System/Standard Workload (and course catalogue links)

A normal full time load at UBC is 12 credits per semester (each course typically carries 3 credits)

Course listings are available via the 'course schedule':

🇨🇦 University of Toronto

Credit System/Standard Workload (and course catalogue links)

A normal full time load in most Faculties at Toronto is 2 credits per semester (classes are normally worth 0.5 credits each). We recommend that students attending for a semester in their second year should consider 200 and 300 level course only. 400 level courses are intended to be very challenging for Toronto's own fourth-year undergraduates and are not recommended for second year Manchester students.

Please see: <https://inboundvisiting.utoronto.ca/schools/university-of-manchester/>

Restrictions: Exchange is not possible for Biochemistry, Business or Management. Practical courses in Visual Studies and Drama are not generally available (although taking theoretical classes is possible). Chemistry courses with a laboratory component are extremely limited.

🇨🇦 University of Toronto (Faculty of Law)

Credit System/Standard Workload (and course catalogue links)

Students in Toronto Faculty of Law normally take a minimum of 13 and a maximum of 16 credits per semester. Courses are worth between 1 and 4 credits which relates to the number of teaching hours per week. Manchester students usually take 13 credits made up of 200 and 300 level courses.
