

Singapore Credits

Students in their second year at The University of Manchester should typically take a combination of Level 2 and Level 3 courses at Singaporean universities.

All guidance on credit load is based on a student replacing 60 University of Manchester credits per semester.

Students will also need to be mindful of minimum credit requirements for full-time status for visa requirements.

Nanyang Technological University

Credit System/Standard Workload (and course catalogue links)

A normal full time load at NTU is for 16 units per semester. Each course carries a prescribed number of units (AU) which corresponds to the amount of contact hours required for that course. 1 hour of lectures or 3 hours of fieldwork/lab work per week is equivalent to 1 AU.

Course Catalogue:

Please note that module selections are not guaranteed, so students are advised to select up to 8

Restrictions: All courses are taught in English. The Music department is not open to exchange students. Business School classes are theoretically open to exchange students, but are often over-subscribed (this includes, Economics, Finance, Accounting etc).

Module codes with prefix BMC, BME and BMU are NOT open to exchange students. Past students have warned that the level of mathematics required in economics, finance and engineering courses is very high in Singapore and is likely to prove very challenging for a typical UK student.

Singapore Management University (School of Law)

Credit System/Standard Workload (and course catalogue links)

A normal full time load of courses at SMU is 4 credits per semester (most courses are worth 1 credit each).

You can view courses at: <https://www.smu.edu.sg/programmes>

Please note that this list includes ALL undergraduate courses and Manchester students are restricted to courses in the School of Law. There are a small number of classes which are not available to exchange students. A list of the courses available to exchange students will be released prior to the online-registration period.

Course enrolment is conducted via a bidding exercise in July (Term 1) and December (Term 2) each year. Demand could be high for some courses. Students are encouraged to be pro-active and flexible in their study plans, as well as to seek pre-approval for more courses than necessary from their home university, to optimise their bidding opportunities. Only undergraduate courses are applicable to exchange students (Course Codes 001-499).

Law with Politics students will only be able to select 1 Politics module

Restrictions: Only open to Law and business students.
